HUGHES ACCEPTS THE NOMINATION

Sends Ringing Statement to Chairman Harding.

STANDS FOR PREPAREDNESS

Republican Candidate for President Asserts He is for Real Americanism and Unflinching Maintenance of Our Rights on Land and Sea.

Washington, June 12.—In a ringing statement declaring his stand for real Americanism and preparedness that spells efficiency in the American navy and army Charles Evans Hughes accepted the nomination for president tendered him by the Republican party. His acceptance was contained in a telegram sent to Chairman Harding of the convention.

"I have not desired the nomination," Mr. Hughes' statement says. "I have wished to remain on the bench. But in this critical period of our national history I recognize that it is your right to summon and that it is my paramount duty to respond.

"You speak at a time of national exigency, transcending merely partisan considerations. You voice the demands for a dominant, thoroughgoing American with first protective upbuilding policies essential to our peace and security; and to that call, in this crisis, I cannot fail to answer with the pledge of all that is in me to the service of the country.

"Therefore I accept the nomination. I would maintain rights.

"I stand for the firm and unflinching maintenance of all the rights of American citizens on land and sea. I neither impugn motives nor underestimate difficulties.

"But it is most regrettable true that in our foreign relations we have suffered incalculably from the weak and vacillating course which has been taken with regard to Mexico—a course lamentably wrong with regard to our rights and our duties.

"We interfered with consistency; and, while seeking to dictate when we were not concerned, we utterly failed to appreciate and discharge our plain duty to our own citizens.

"At the outset of the administration the high responsibilities of our diplomatic intercourse with foreign nations were subordinated to a conception of partisan requirements and we presented to the world a humiliating spectacle of ineptitude.

"Belated efforts have not availed to recover the influence and prestige so unfortunately sacrificed and brave words have been stripped of their force by indecision.

To Dignify Place Among Nations.

"Our desire is to see our diplomacy restored to its best standards and to have these advanced; to have no sacrifices of the national interest to partisan expediences; to have the first ability of the country always at its command here and abroad in diplomatic intercourse; to maintain firmly our rights under international law; insisting steadfastly upon all our rights as mutual and fully performing our international obligations; and by the clear correctness and justness of our position and our manifest ability and disposition to sustain them to dignify our place among the nations.

"I stand for an Americanism that knows no ulterior purpose and for a patriotism that is single and complete. "Whether native or naturalized, of whatever race or creed, we have but one country and we do not for an instant tolerate any division of allegiance.

"I believe in making prompt provision to secure absolutely our national security.

Preparedness and Efficiency.

"I believe in preparedness, not only entirely adequate for our defense with respect to numbers and equipment in both army and navy, but with all thoroughness to the end that in each branch of the service there may be the utmost efficiency under the most competent administrative heads. We are devoted to the ideals of honorable peace.

"We wish to promote all wise and practicable measures for the just settlement of international disputes. In view of our abiding ideals there is no danger of militarism in this country. We have no policy of aggression; no lust for territory; no zeal for strife.

"It is in this spirit that we demand adequate provision for national defense and we condemn the inexcusable neglect that has been shown in this matter of first national importance.

"We must have the strength which self-respect demands, the strength of an efficient nation, ready for every emergency.

"Our preparation must be industrial and economic as well as military. Our severest tests will come after the war is over.

CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS.

Hughes' Running Mate on Republican Ticket.

"We must make a fair and wise readjustment of the tariff, in accordance with sound protective principle, to insure our economic independence and to maintain American standards of living.

Conserve Interests of Labor.

"We must conserve the just interests of labor, realizing that in democracy, patriotism and national strength must be rooted in even handed justice.

"In preventing, as we must, unjust discriminations and monopolistic practices, we must still be zealous to assure the foundation of honest business. Particularly should we seek the expansion of foreign trade.

"We must not throttle American enterprise here or abroad, but rather promote it and take pride in honorable achievements.

"We must take up the serious problems of transportation, of interstate and foreign commerce, in a sensible and candid manner, and provide an enduring basis for prosperity by the intelligent use of the constitutional powers of congress, so as adequately to protect the public on the one hand and, on the other, to conserve the essential instrumentalities of progress.

To Insist on Highest Efficiency.

"I stand for the principles of our civil service laws. In every department of government the highest efficiency must be insisted upon. For all laws and programs are vain without efficient and impartial administration.

"I cannot within the limits of this statement speak upon all the subjects that will require attention. I can only say that I fully endorse the platform you have adopted.

"I deeply appreciate the responsibility you impose. I should have been glad to have that responsibility placed upon another, but I shall undertake to meet it, grateful for the confidence you express. I sincerely trust that all former differences may be forgotten and that we may have united effort in a patriotic realization of our national need and opportunity. I have resigned my judicial office and am ready to devote myself unreservedly to the campaign."

AUSTRIA ADMITS REVERSES

Petrograd Officially Announces Capture of Over One Hundred Thousand Austrians and Immense Quantities of War Equipment.

London, June 12.—Russian armies are keeping up their successful offensive in Volhynia, Galicia and Bukowina. The Austrian official communication admits the withdrawal of Austrians in Northeastern Bukowina before a greatly superior enemy.

The fighting there is described by Austria as extraordinarily heavy.

The Russian official statement says: "Our offensive in Volhynia, Galicia and Bukowina obtained fresh success.

"In a single sector of the enemy front we captured 21 searchlights, 2 convoys, 25 field kitchens, 47 trains of machine guns, 432,000 pounds of barbed wire, 1,000 concrete planks, 7,000,000 cubes of concrete, 360,000 pounds of coal, enormous depots of ammunition and quantities of arms and other material.

"In another sector we captured 30,000 rifle cartridges, 300 boxes of machine gun cartridges, 200 boxes of hand grenades, 1,000 rifles, 4 machine guns, 2 range finders and a Norton portable pump for the extraction of drinking water.

"During the day's fighting we took as prisoners one general, 409 officers and 35,100 soldiers. We also captured 30 guns, 13 machine guns and 5 bomb throwers. This makes the total trophies in the recent operations one general, 1,649 officers and more than 106,000 soldiers, and 124 guns, 180 machine guns and 58 bomb throwers."

Since Saturday night, when three German infantry attacks against French trenches on Hill 304 and other points in this sector were put down by the French fire, bombardments alone have been in progress in the fighting zone about Verdun.

The British around Ypres have again been shelled heavily by the Germans.

Italians again report success for their troops against the Austrian army in the region between the Adige and Brenta rivers, southeast of Trent.

ITALIAN CABINET RESIGNS

Due to Failure of Deputies to Express Confidence.

London, June 12.—The Italian cabinet, headed by Premier Salandra, has resigned.

This action of the ministry resulted from the failure of the Italian chamber of deputies to pass a vote of confidence in the government on the presentation of the budget of the ministry of the interior. A Rome dispatch received here by wireless telegraph said all political parties favored a national ministry containing Baron Sonnino, the minister of foreign affairs, and the present military ministers.

RESTRICT DRINK FURTHER

English War Economy Cuts Deeper Into Alcohol and Tobacco.

London, June 12.—Beer, tobacco and whisky are to be further restricted as a precautionary measure in connection with the general scheme of war economy.

It is stated now that the ministry of munitions intends to prevent all whisky distillation, except such as intended for the production of a by-product, probably alcohol, which is used in the manufacture of explosives.

LONDON TIMES SEES BITTER CAMPAIGN

London, June 12.—The morning newspapers devote considerable space to the result of the Republican national convention held in Chicago and in several cases print biographies a column long of Charles E. Hughes, the nominee for president.

The articles include considerable discussion of the probable attitude of Colonel Roosevelt.

"The Republican party conducted its convention with sagacity and discipline," says the Times. "The campaign between Mr. Hughes and President Wilson probably will be the most important and most bitter since the Civil war, for behind the immediate issues involved lies the whole problem of the future attitude of the United States toward the largest question of international policy."

K. O. FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Boxing Clubs of State Contribute $11,937.10 to Fight White Plague

The Minnesota state tubercular fund in one year has received $11,937.10 from boxing bouts.

That's the total amount turned in to the state treasury by the three boxing clubs.

The Capital City A. C. of St. Paul, Louis F. Dow, president, turned in $7,223.30, or about two-thirds of the total.

Minneapolis came through with $3,675.40 and Duluth with $1,038.40. St. Paul turned in to the fund nearly twice as much as did Minneapolis.

Mike and Tommy Gibbons were prominent figures in drawing the houses in St. Paul. Tommy figured in two good houses, while Mike, in two bouts, drew a total of $40,787.60 of which the state tubercular fund received $4,078.76. The state gets 10% of the gross receipts of all boxing matches.

The largest house in St. Paul was when Mike Gibbons met Young Ahern on Jan. 15, amounting to $23,618.60; the second largest was between Mike Gibbons and Jeff Smith, staged March 17, totaling $17,169.

The three boxing commissioners are Frank Thompson, St. Paul, Mike Nolan, Minneapolis, and Henry Ribbenack, Duluth.

"I think the first year of boxing in Minnesota was a great success," said Mr. Thompson. "St. Paul staged 11 shows, one less than the law allows, Minneapolis ten, two less, showing that the limit of 12 is one year is sufficiently large."

"The commission had to sort of feel its way, as there had been practically no boxing in Minnesota for years and it was the first attempt at legalized boxing."

"The tax of 10 per cent is somewhat of a handicap to the promoters, especially as it is higher than in any other state, and yet the St. Paul and Minnesota promoters have to pay the same amount to headline boxers. Still the promoters have gotten by with a margin on the right side."

"I feel very well satisfied with the game. The commission has done its best to keep the game on a high plane, has instituted a number of reforms to better the game and have a number more which may be introduced in the near future."

GUILTY, BUT INSANE

London, June 12.—The court martial which tried Captain Bowen-Colthurst on the charge of shooting P. Sheehy Skeffington, editor of the Irish Citizen, and two others during the recent rebellion in Ireland, has found him guilty but insane at the time of the shooting, says a Central News dispatch from Dublin.

Captain Bowen-Colthurst was charged with the murder and, alternatively, with the manslaughter of Sheffington and Thomas Dickson and Fred McIntyre.

The court found him guilty of the murder of the three men. The finding has been confirmed by General Maxwell, commanding the military forces. As Captain Bowen-Colthurst also was found insane, following the usual procedure in such cases, he probably will be ordered "confined during the king's pleasure."

AID FOR DANBURY HATTERS

American Federation of Labor Requests Workmen to Contribute.

Washington, June 12.—Because only $132,138.55 of the needed $250,000 was subscribed by American laboring men to pay the judgment against the homes of the aged Danbury hatters in the famous Danbury boycott case the American Federation has named June 15 as the day upon which labor should contribute the needed $117,861.45. The federation's request says that "all workers who did not contribute on Jan. 27 are earnestly requested to contribute the wages of an hour's labor on Thursday, June 15."

JUST NERVES.

Don't Let Lowered Vitality Run You Down in the Spring.

If you should go to the doctor and tell him that you are given to being gloomy and blue at times; that you have apprehensions of dreadful things; that you are superstitious; that you are constipated, given to headaches and vertigo or to other similar ailments the doctor would know that you were suffering from a case of "nerves." Naturally when you realize that these symptoms are signposts to "nerves" you can appreciate how impossible it is for a nervous woman to appear charming and beautiful. If these facts were only understood more universally by women they would be ashamed to admit they had "nerves," and they would do all they could to cure them.

No matter how talented a woman may be, how clever, how well read or how interesting, if she is a nervous wreck she will find that little by little her friends will see less and less of her until in time she will find it a rare thing to have a caller. Not because the friends mean to be unkind, but because human nature is so constituted that it longs for happiness and warmth, not for sorrow and gloom.

The fundamental cause of nervousness is lowered vitality. So the wise woman will do everything she can to keep her vitality up to its highest mark. If she feels that her vitality is ebbing away she will stop everything and concentrate on building up the system, the nerve force and supply.

HOW FLAGS WERE AWARDED

Silk Flag to High School and One to W. R. C. of Brainerd for Large Membership Gain

In a letter to the Brainerd Dispatch Mrs. Bertha Theviot, president of the local Woman's Relief Corps No. 47, explains how the two silk flags were awarded by the W. R. C. convention in Minneapolis, one to the local high school and one to the corps here.

Every year a silk flag is presented to a high school, and the honor this year went to Brainerd high school. The relief corps which brings in the most members during the year receives a flag. Pap Thomas Relief Corps, No. 47, gained 24 new members from June 15, 1915, to June 1, 1916. The second prize was given to the president for her hard work in Brainerd with instructions to follow in fall when schools will open again.

Mrs. Theviot was elected a delegate to the National convention at Kansas City, and appointed conductor by the national president.

HUGHES FOR PRESIDENT

The nomination of Charles E. Hughes at the Chicago national republican convention places before the people a candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people who did not by word or deed indicate that he was a candidate for the position. His nomination was a popular free will offering and was a tribute of confidence that has come to few other men, if indeed any.

It was evident from the first that the rank and file desired either Hughes or Roosevelt, but the former had a great majority of the delegates and while there was a disposition of the old time politicians to defeat his nomination they failed. Hughes was the logical outcome of the situation and he will become president without pledge of any kind to the convention.

Mr. Hughes is a thorough-going American with firm, protective, up-building policies, and he stands for the "unflinching maintenance of the rights of American citizens on land as well as on sea." The statement of Hughes is considered one of the greatest ever issued by a presidential candidate and as a great public document it will be referred to with effect during the campaign.

"DANDELION LID" OFF

The "dandelion lid" goes off tomorrow morning at 9 A. M. and we anticipate all the children of our many subscribers will "dig in" and "dig out" dandelions, roots and all, and Wednesday from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. deliver them to the empty lot on the corner of 8th and Front streets, by the Model laundry, where checks good for 10c will be handed out for each honest bushel. Come early because after the first five hundred bushels are paid for, only 5c will be paid by handing out a movie ticket. We are also informed that one of our merchants has donated a number of ice cream sodas. Oh, just to be a kid once more—the writer would scoop up enough dimes to fill a bushel and win enough sodas to last him through the summer.

One week from today the people of Minnesota will be called upon to place in nomination candidates for public office. The nomination of a congressman on the republican ticket will be one of the places to be filled and the Sixth district should see to it that an experienced man is chosen, one of known ability, and whose training along legislative lines will at once make him a valuable asset for the district. C. B. Buckman of Little Falls, is an ideal candidate from every standpoint and the indications are that the people will give him the nomination for this important position.

Col. Roosevelt's conditional refusal to accept the nomination of the progressives for president is expected to mean that he will endorse the candidacy of Charles E. Hughes, and the chance is open for him to become even bigger and more patriotic by such action. Will he do it? The nation looks to him for such action, and it is believed that he will lay aside personal ambition and come to the support of the ticket as nominated at Chicago by the republicans and make the election of Charles E. Hughes an assured thing.

Good roads day will be made a civic occasion tomorrow and many more days of this kind should follow. Concerted action and a push altogether will accomplish great results. Brainerd and Crow Wing county has talked good roads, now let's see if it was a bluff.

Dandelion day in Brainerd will go down in history as an occasion of great rejoicing—among the kids and those who wish to see the pest eradicated. Additional space will be provided for receiving the "yellow peril" if necessary.

EVIDENTLY SEEKING HORSES

American Soldiers in Motor Trucks
Are Sent to the Scene to Take Up
Trail of the Outlaws—Stolen Horses
Are Said to Have Been Recovered.

Laredo, Tex., June 12.—Fifteen Mexican bandits attacked four white persons on the T. A. Coleman ranch at San Samuel, drove them to the brush and escaped across the Rio Grande with eighty-three horses.

The same party of Mexicans, it is reported, attacked the Johnson and Coleman ranch in the same vicinity. American soldiers were sent in motor trucks to follow the trail of the bandits.

An unverified report says the horses had been recovered, but whether any fighting had taken place was not known.

Two American cowboys, George Conover and Arthur Myers, were captured and carried off in the raid on the Johnson and Coleman ranch.

They were released later and reached Palofox, Tex., fifty miles west of Laredo, unharmed.

Luis de la Rosa, a notorious bandit leader, is said to have been with the party which raided this ranch. The Mexicans had rounded up a bunch of horses when they were discovered by Conover and Myers and a Mexican employe of the ranch, who stampeded the animals.

George R. Alexander, foreman of the T. A. Coleman ranch, with three men left the ranch, taking the horses to a pasture at Webb, Tex. Twelve miles from the Rio Grande they were attacked from the rear by Mexicans, who evidently had been following them.

The Mexican rifle fire was too much for the ranchers and they were compelled to take to the brush, abandoning the horses, with which the bandits escaped.

CONVENTION AFTERMATH

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—The progressive convention always shuts its mouth and listens when Victor Murdock starts to talk. His hair is red and curly. So is everything he says.

Approximately $260 worth of gum was used by the 14,000 persons at the republican convention in one day. At least 13,000 of them were chewing it.

STONE WILL BE CHAIRMAN

Prepares Tentative Draft of Democratic Platform.

St. Louis, June 12.—Senator William J. Stone, who will be chairman of the resolutions committee, said the tentative draft of the Democratic platform contains these planks:

Democratic legislative achievements in revising tariff, reorganizing currency system and inaugurating income tax by way of proof of soundness of domestic policies.

Praise of Wilson's foreign policy in keeping United States at peace while maintaining strict and honest neutrality.

Praise of Wilson's diplomatic victory in securing pledge from Germany to abandon submarine warfare.

Cite prosperity and growth of foreign trade.

Attitude of Wilson toward Mexico, treating it from standpoint of friend in need.

Preparedness provided in improvement of navy and army and reorganization of national guard, with other defense measures in prospect.

Pin Money.

Look about in the shops now to see what new utensils you desire this spring. Set aside whatever sum of money you can spend, be it counted in dollars or cents, and with it buy some utensils to make housework easier.

Perhaps a strawberry huller will come in for your choice, with a pineapple eye remover too. Perhaps what you most desire will be an awning for some given window or porch that has heretofore always been too sunny. Whatever it is, shop for it wisely and get it if you can afford it.

Needlework Notes.

Fascinating workbags, made of Austrian handkerchiefs such as the peasants wear for handkerchiefs, are being shown. The handkerchief is of a large size in cream white and has a border of purple plums and green leaves. The bags are half moon in shape and sixteen inches deep and are shirred on oblong wooden frames, which form the handles.

T. R. THINKS HE CAN BE ELECTEDFirmly Believes People Want
Him to Run Again.

LEADERS WATCHING HIM.

Course in Near Future Will Have Important Bearing on Presidential Campaign—Views of Hughes on Preparedness an Issue, According to Those Closest to Former President.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Chicago, June 12.—[Special.]—Roosevelt is almost at the point where he believes that he might be elected as an independent candidate. That is one reason shrewd politicians have for hastening the nomination of some other man. They do not want the announcement that Roosevelt will run independently until there has been time for the second sober thought of the colonel and his supporters to have a chance.

It has been quietly whispered about the picnic grounds that Roosevelt will not oppose Hughes if the justice comes out squarely for preparedness and stands on a platform on that line, but the Roosevelt men making such declarations are generally hushed up by their managers, who think that such a declaration is a clear giveaway of the game they are playing.

Smallest Headquarters.

The Hughes headquarters are the smallest in Chicago—that is, if he can be said to have headquarters at all. The two rooms occupied by Frank Hitchcock are all there is to the Hughes headquarters. There is not a sign, no electric designs, no banners, crowding all day long while the former national chairman consults with first one man and then another.

Candidates With an "If."

There have been more candidates with an "if" than I have ever known at a national convention. The half dozen men with votes in the convention have all been ready to be nominated "if"—and then the manager will add whatever fits his case. In some instances it has been because the Hughes sentiment has been too strong or because the Roosevelt men have had too much pull or for half a dozen different reasons. Almost any one of the favorite sons could have been nominated except for the "if."

A Common Error.

Hundreds of papers have printed the story that the Republican national convention is run by half a dozen men; that these men could at any time name a presidential candidate if they should agree. It has been frequently asserted that W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania, Joe Keating of Indiana, Reed Smoot of Utah and Bill Barnes of New York, with a few assistants in the west, could get together and name the Republican candidate. Nothing is more absurd. If those men could have named the candidate they would have agreed on any one of the half dozen men they have been supporting long ago. They would probably have made Elihu Root the nominee. As a matter of fact this is a convention where the bosses count for less than usual.

Southern States Wanted T. R.
Ostra a number of southern states.

usually considered the political property of the machine, whether belonging to the Old Guard or to some other crowd, have been out from the first for Colonel Roosevelt. It seems rather curious that the states which defeated Roosevelt four years ago should be for him now.

The Great Second Choice.

Fairbanks of Indiana has been the great second choice of this convention—that is, he has been the choice for second place by the representatives of more candidates than any other man in the convention. The manager of nearly every boom has offered the Indiana man the vice presidency.

The Black Belt.

There is an anteroom just off the room where the Republican national committee holds its meeting. This is called the black belt. Before every national convention that room is filled with negroes, most of whom are interested in the contest from the southern states. A Republican national convention without fifty or a hundred black men contesting for seats would be something out of the ordinary.

Need a Larger Hall.

While it is generally agreed that Chicago is the best place to hold a national convention, it is also the opinion that Chicago ought to provide a much larger hall. The room where the convention meets does not accommodate more than half of those who want to see the big show.

There was a time when talk was heard that there should only be seats for the delegates and necessary workers, but no political party would dare bar the great army of prominent people who go to national conventions to see a presidential candidate named.

Jockeying For First Place.

There was a deal of jockeying for first place in naming the candidates. Alabama, being the first state called, was sought after by the friends of different candidates in an effort to get the delegation to yield to some other state to place a man in nomination.

COLONEL MAY NOT ACCEPT

Roosevelt Conditionally Declines Progressive Nomination.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 12.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt informed the Progressive party that he cannot accept the nomination as their candidate. Roosevelt stated that he desired his conditional refusal to run be placed in the hands of the Progressive national committee while the committee went over the statement of Charles E. Hughes, nominated by the Republicans. The colonel asked that the candidate decide whether it be best for the country for Hughes to be elected, and if it did not so consider, treat the colonel's refusal as definite.

The Result.

Modern Fairy—Which do you choose for your son, wealth or wisdom?

Young Mother—Wisdom. With wisdom he can obtain wealth, but with wealth he cannot obtain wisdom.

Fairy—Sounds well, but have your way.

Forty years later he was familiar with science, art, literature, geography, history, etc., and could speak ten languages, but for a living he was writing a biography of Mr. Fatpurse, the great sausage maker!—London Telegraph.

Benzol Production.

Connected with the coke industry was the completion during the last summer of a number of large plants for the recovery of benzol from by-product coke oven gas. This gives the United States its first output of this material, so important as a raw material in the manufacture of high explosives and chemical dyes.

A Good Habit to Cultivate.

The cultivation of love and forbearance for others is one of the safest habits to form, and this love should be cultivated without inquiring whether others deserve that love or not. It is always difficult for any human being to know surely whether another deserves our love, for we never know the heart, and we cannot see behind the scenes. Only God can truly judge. It is for us to love and to help and let God do the judging and the criticizing. This attitude of caring and trying to aid by sympathy can be formed like any other habit, and once formed it takes the place of indifference and intolerance, opening up our whole lives to faith and light.—Christian Herald.

Indigestion quickly develops sick headache, biliousness, bloating, sour stomach, gas on stomach, bad breath or some other conditions caused by clogged or irregular bowels. If you have any of these symptoms, take a Foley Cathartic Tablet this evening and you will feel better in the morning. H. P. Dunn, druggist. mwf

Sunday's game was a thriller from start to finish and the fans were enthusiastic in the highest degree. Brainerd got the small end of the score, however, Little Falls winning 3 to 2. A little stickwork in the pinches when Brainerd had men cluttering up the bases, would have made a different score. The tall end of the local batting list was weak.

Little Falls got the jump in the very first inning, Laumann's fly not being gathered in and Scott Hall and Allison. In the third Hall and Williams made a pretty double steal, but no runs resulted. In the fourth Little Falls' chances went glimmering when Gourd whipped into a double play and Benda hit the ball to Larson on second to Cook on first, retiring Myers and Gourd and the side.

Allison's two-bagger in the fifth,
landing in deep center, scored Longley.

Brainerd removed the stigma of a shut out in the sixth inning when Cook and Larson worked their way around the diamond. Cook's single brought Larson to third. An error by Third Baseman Hall allowed the runs to trickle through.

The result of the game whets interest in the forthcoming clash at Little Falls on the Fourth of July. It will bring a large crowd to the lower river city.

The score by innings:

Little Falls ..... 200 010 000—3

GOOD ROADS BEE BEGINS JUNE 13

Fifty Teams Employed by Citizens to Improve Proposed Route of Jefferson Highway

MAYOR ASKS ALL TO ASSIST

John F. Woodhead, President of the Automobile Association, Urges
Members to Aid Cause

Brainerd's Good Roads Bee set for Tuesday, June 13, has taken like wild fire and all Brainerd is enthused about the project. Under the guidance of the good roads committee of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, of which S. R. Adair is chairman, the work has been systematized so as to produce the best results.

Fifty teams have been employed by the loyal citizens of Brainerd to improve the route of the proposed Jefferson highway through Crow Wing county.

Mayor R. A. Belse asks the merchants and people generally to assist in the observance of the day as the cause of good roads is one of the greatest importance in improving the welfare of a community. Lessening the farmer's troubles in transportation means hauling larger loads. It means bringing Brainerd closer to a larger area of country district. Good roads will win the gratitude of the farmer and increase the harmony and good feeling between Brainerd and the country.

John F. Woodhead, president of the automobile association, has issued a stirring appeal to the members to assist in good roads building Tuesday. He is sure of a large number of the membership assisting by donations or by personal effort.

Teamsters and workers will gather Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock at the crushed rock pile near the east end of the Laurel street bridge. County Engineer R. M. Cooley will be at the spreading end with a crew to handle the rock as soon as unloaded. One of his foremen will be at the Brainerd end.

The list of contributors to the cause of good roads will be published in full in the Dispatch. Make your donation and get your name in the hall of fame to help build up Brainerd and Crow Wing county.

put to death a three-legged

She also feared possible damages to her garden, should the centipede legged chicken reach the stage when scratching up the soil would be one of its diversions.

LAUDS HIBBING HOSPITALITY

C. E. Hansing, Secretary of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, Returns From Meeting

OF THE N. M. D. A. HELD THERE

Richest Little City in the United States, Proud of its Municipal Improvements

With a smaller attendance than usually attends the semi-annual meetings of the Northern Minnesota Development Association, the delegates in attendance declared that more enthusiasm prevailed at Hibbing this year than at any of the many previous mid-summer meetings, and the work accomplished was very satisfactory.

The resolutions committee in a lengthy report urged the adoption of revolving fund amendment No. 1 and each delegate to the meeting was given a blue button to wear on the lapel of his coat calling attention to the amendment and asking for its support. The committee also favored the establishment of a rural credit system; increase in the number of consolidated schools; physical training in all schools; changes in drainage laws to allow permanent roads;
potato standardization and inspection bureau similar to the present grain inspection bureau, together with a number of other recommendations which were adopted unanimously.

"Give every man a home," was the slogan featured by John Ownes of Cook county, in an address which was greeted by an ovation. "Develop the play spirit" was emphasized by Fred W. Murphy, president of the All Minnesota Development Association which meets in St. Paul this week, June 14th and 15th. A number of other glowing speeches were delivered by delegates and at the conclusion of the session, harmony within the state seemed to be the keynote of the meeting, together with an effort to wipe out the line between Northern Minnesota and the rest of the state.

Hibbing played hosts in a manner that would be hard for any other city in Minnesota or even in the U. S. to duplicate. Equipped as it is with fine streets, good country roads, magnificent school buildings, municipal buildings and a fire department that could well be envied by the two cities, the delegates to the association meeting were given the key to the city with a hand of welcome that foreboded only hospitality.

In the afternoon of the first day, the Oliver Mining company provided eight-sewing cars which took the delegates and their wives through the largest open pit mine in the world, the Mahoning. Here they were shown sixteen steam shovels busily working either stripping or loading ore while the roar of engines wheeling away the filled cars and bringing back empties kept one in a mood of excitement every minute. As a spectator remarked, the earth has been scratched, and this statement but mildly tells the truth. The party were given a ride completely around the mine returning to the city within an hour after which a trip through the high school building was made with Supt. C. C. Alexander as guide. Here was shown the finest building for its purpose in the world, containing eight blocks of corridors and a department for every course of study that is equipped in a manner which spells efficiency. The school is kept open six days and nights in a week and for twelve months in a year. Over 150 pupils are enrolled at present in the night school while the fall of the year will double the number. An employment bureau is a special department of the school and already during 1916 has placed over 70 pupils in responsible positions. The school is a model of its kind and one which the largest city in the state could well feel proud of.

During the evening a smoker was provided for the delegates by the Oliver Mining company and athletic and musical acts were featured. During the afternoon of the second day, an automobile ride about the county was provided by the reception committee of the Commercial club and everyone returning from the trip spoke in loud words of praise for the fine roads which have been built and are maintained throughout the county in the country adjacent to the city of Hibbing. Clay gravel has been hailed onto every road after which it is rolled and dragged until the county can well lay claim to having fine roads all the time.

The richest little city in the United States can be of being second to none when acting as host to a visitor and never be contradicted.

Brainerd Elks will leave Tuesday afternoon in special coaches attached to the regular Duluth afternoon train at 2:30 o'clock, arriving in Duluth Tuesday evening. Special entertainment will be provided for them that evening.

Prince at the Lyceum theater. James

Woodrow Giants on Home Grounds
Clean up Rivals, Ed Novotny on Slab for Giants

The Woodrow Giants defeated Oak Lawn at Woodrow 11 to 4. The battery was Ed Novotny and Frank Cannon for Woodrow. In its first game of the season, Oak Lawn was crippled as they did not have their full team.

Woodrow showed flashes of speed at times during the game. A couple of errors were made by Woodrow, but they were not costly. Oak Lawn played steady ball throughout the game, but the batteries were a little weak, causing the big score.

A Prince Edward Island Legend.
There is a delightful legend among the people of Point Prim to the effect that when the English attacked the French fort at that place a chain ball from one of the attacking vessels cut the steeple from the old church located over the promontory and carried the bell which it contained into the sea. Dwellers along the point affirm that from time to time the sound of that bell comes over the waters at eventide and that its phantom tone is ever a warning of a fierce storm or some imminent danger to those who make their living by the spoils of the ocean.—Exchange.

With a shrug of resignation the Prosecutor dropped back into his seat, and Langdon, turning again to McGlone, who looked bewildered by the battle of the attorneys, said quietly: "I will repeat my question, Mr. McGlone. Did you ever hear anyone make any threats against Mr. Pollock?" "Well, as I said—" But this time it was his Honor who interrupted. "You must remember, Mr. McGlone, that in answering questions you must use only the direct yes or no. Do not digress or say why such threats were made. That question has not been asked you." "Then—yes," grumbled McGlone, "I heard fellows make threats against him twice." "Where?" "In front of the bar. He was mixed up with some men that didn't like the way he run things. He treated 'em all like dogs, and I thought that sometime when one of 'em was full of whiskey he'd probably carry out the threat." "Did you warn Mr. Pollock?" "Yes." "What did he say?" "Oh, Jim just laughed and said he knew of four people who would like to see him get his, and he wasn't excluding the fair sex."

"I object!" interrupted the District Attorney, leaping to his feet.

A whisper of excitement ran through the room and Mary shuddered. Had he meant her? Surely not. But the words brought a frown to Langdon's face and a grim smile to that of the prosecutor.

"Did he," the question rapped sharply, "say that he took any precautions against attack?"

"Yes. He told me he packed a couple of guns that would make any fool who got after him, bark up the wrong tree."

"He carried two revolvers?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever see them?"

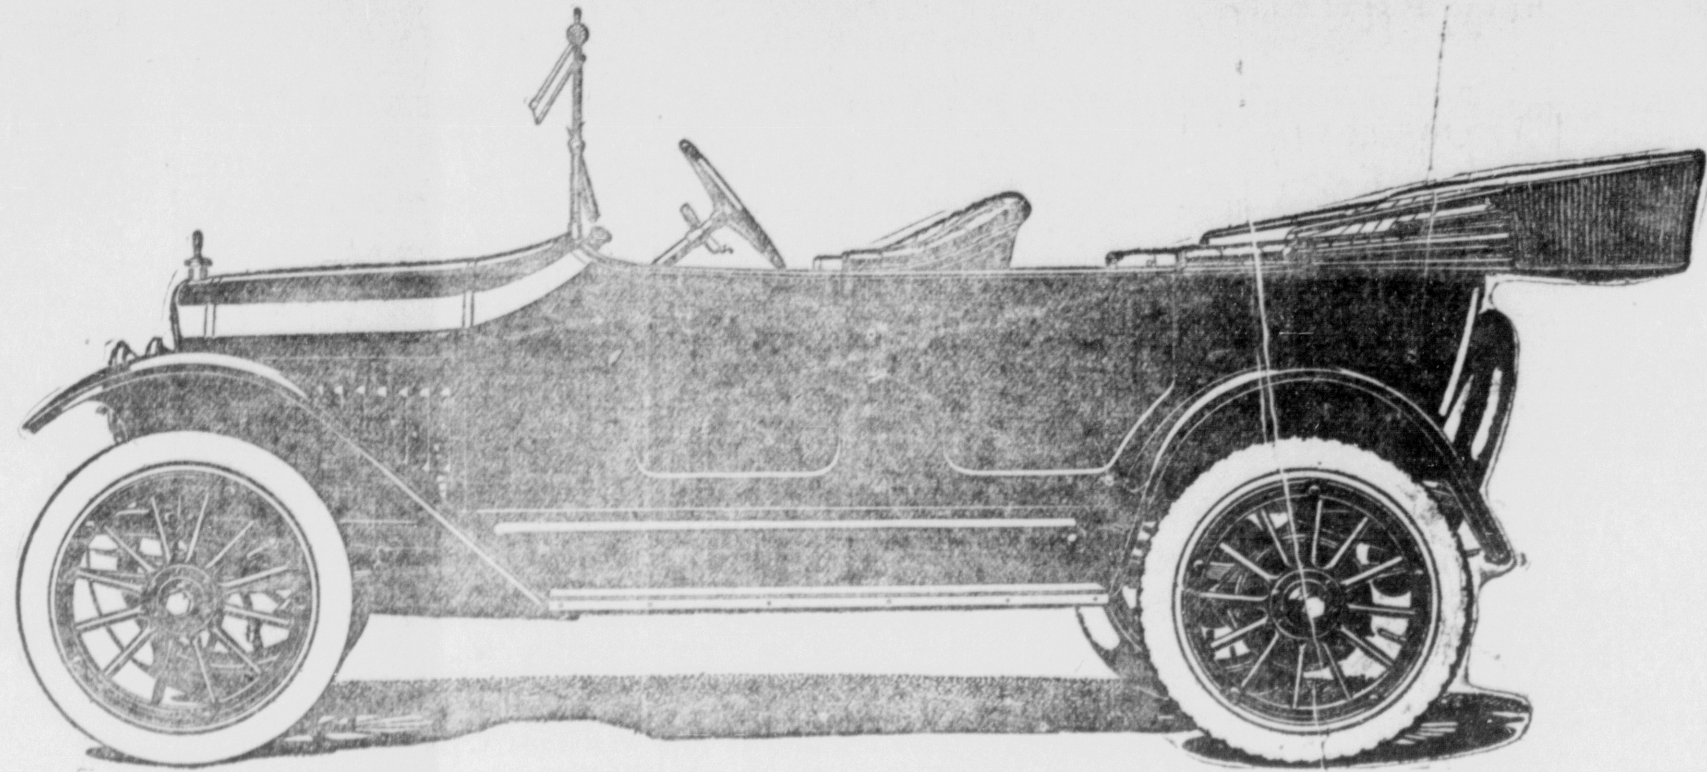

"Not as I remember. He said they were beauteous, and that they couldn't be duplicated on this side of the Atlantic."

Suddenly the prosecutor leaned forward alertly. He saw in an instant where this testimony was leading, and waited, breathless, for the inevitable question that would follow.

"Mr. McGlone, were those revolvers mates? Was it, in fact, a pair of pistols that James Pollock owned?"

"I couldn't say for certain. He used to call 'em the twins, but I never saw them myself."

"That is all, thank you, Mr. McGlone," said Langdon, and sat down triumphantly, while the jury, leaning forward, stared down at the revolver from which that fatal shot had been fired. If James Pollock had owned a pair of them, who could say whether

We Believe the Maxwell is Greatest Motor Car Value on the Market

BUT our opinion would not be of any particular importance to you if it did not coincide with the facts. We only want you to look the market over carefully. Then we absolutely know that you will agree with us.

In the first place there is the remarkable Maxwell engine. No four cylinder motor of its size has more "pep" or go to it regardless of the price of the car it drives. It will climb hills on high gear in a manner that will astonish you. It is quiet and works day in and day out with a sound, business-like hum that is good to hear.

Any engineer will compliment the design of the chassis. And those who are not engineers cannot fail to note its simplicity and staunch construction. As for what it is made of, we can truthfully say that better material cannot be bought.

The operation of the car is simplicity itself—the brakes are powerful—the springs are long and flexible—the axles are strong and the steering apparatus, like the rest of the chassis, is built to stand the most severe service the car may ever have to face, wherever or however it is used.

Then if you consider looks important, and most people do, you will not find a more attractive car than the Maxwell at anywhere near the price.

And it comes to you fully equipped with all the attachments you will ever want or need; electric starter and lights, demountable rims, one man top, self-ventilating, rain-vision windshield, etc. All for $655 (five passenger touring car) or $635 (two passenger roadster).

We know you can't beat it.

Touring Car $655

Roadster $635
